"After the meeting, we might take the new man upstairs and a group of men would ask him to surrender his life to God and start in to really live up to the four absolutes and also to go out and help the other men who needed it."

T. Henry, from the book "Dr. Bob and the Good Old Timers," page 139

Step Five: Admitted to God, to ourselves, and to another human being the exact nature of our wrongs.

THE AA TRADITION

To those in its fold, Alcoholics Anonymous has made the difference between misery and sobriety, and often the difference between life and death. AA can, of course, mean just as much to uncounted alcoholics not yet reached.

Therefore, no society of men and women ever had a more urgent need for continuous effectiveness and permanent unity. We alcoholics see that we must work together and hang together; else, most of us will finally die alone.

The “12 Traditions” of Alcoholics Anonymous are, we believe, the best answer that our experience has yet given to those ever-urgent questions, “How will AA best function?” and, “How can AA best stay whole and so survive?”

Five—Each group has but one primary purpose—to carry its message to the alcoholic who still suffers.
